PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOP

INTEGRATING COAGULATION INTO TRANSFUSION MEDICINE

Venue:

Madras Medical College, Chennai

Time:

9.00 am to 5.00 pm

The intersections are numerous – neither stand alone. This workshop takes you down the numerous clinical situations where an understanding of coagulation enhances the science and practice of transfusion medicine. With a mix of lectures, case discussions, sessions on test interpretation and basic lab demonstrations, the link to our clinical decision making in transfusion will be emphasised. Starting with the coagulation cascade, to the importance of history taking in suspected bleeders, the range of testing – for clotting factor and platelet disorders, traditional tests of coagulation, global tests of haemostasis, anticoagulant monitoring and reversal, to the nuances in complicated settings such as liver disease, PPH and more, – come participate, discuss and deliberate as we talk about the inextricable link and value addition that an understanding of coagulation adds to the science of transfusion medicine.
